

Lynda Tongue

Teaching and Supervising Transactional Analyst - org

Biography

Lynda is the founder and owner of Triangle Partnership (Learning and Development consultancy) and Triangle TA Group (teaching and supervising trainers, coaches, consultants and facilitators).

Triangle Partnership Lynda is a management educator and coach with over 40 years experience of public and private sector organisations. She works with multi-party contracts at all levels of the organisation, consciously working with individuals and teams and taking a systems approach in her work.

Her focus is usually leadership development – whether that be leaders of teams, or personal leadership and she overtly teaches the framework of models and concepts of Transactional Analysis (TA). She works in the organisational context to promote personal growth, clear communication and to support others to build resilient relationships.

Lynda takes care to model the positive behaviours of the relational leadership approach that she has cultivated through her own journey of qualifying at the highest level in TA. She encourages, challenges respectfully and invites people to make positive choices for personal growth

Triangle TA Group (TTAG) Lynda is a Certified Transactional Analyst (Organisational), and is internationally qualified as a Teaching and Supervising Transactional Analyst. She has delivered workshops throughout the UK, in the USA, Russia, the Ukraine, Rome, Romania, Spain, Prague and Poland. She is currently working on a research project in the care sector looking at how TA contributes to what she terms “relational leadership”.

She is Deputy Programme Director for the MSc in Professional Development (Developmental TA), a programme which is accredited through Middlesex University. She is also a founder of the International Centre for TA Qualifications (ICTAQ). She runs a TA training group based in Devon, teaching and supervising coaches and trainers who wish to work towards the ICDTA Certificate and Diploma in DTA, or the MSc or Certified Transactional Analyst (CTA) status. Some may attend not for qualifications but instead for continuing professional and personal development.

As well as her TA qualifications, Lynda has a post-graduate Diploma in Training Management, a Diploma in Supervision and a BA (Hons). She is also a Neuro Linguistic Programming Practitioner and has been running her learning and development consultancy since 1991.
